

FOR CONTEMPORARY ART IN THE EAST

SMITHS
ROW

EASTERN PAVILIONS

Commissioned as part of Eastern Pavilions, Smiths Row invites you to one of these two CPD workshops: New Object Lessons Goes East!

Thursday, 5th January 2012

Start at Smiths Row, finish at Moyses Hall
Bury St Edmunds
10am-1pm

Friday, 6th January 2012

Norwich Castle Museum & Art Gallery
10am-1pm New Object Lessons, Benefactors Room
1-1.30pm Lunch break
1.30-2pm Guided tour of related exhibition Family Matters: The Family in British Art, led by Curator Harriet Loffler

new object lessons

Aimed at curators, artists, cultural heritage professionals, academics, students.....or even just curious cats.....New Object Lessons will open your mind and encourage you to look at cultural history in a whole new light. Created and led by historian Dominique Tessier, New Object Lessons is a cross-cultural content development programme that explores links between the local and global through everyday objects, as well as items found in museums, archives and libraries. New Object Lessons can be used to re-think marketing, curating, teaching, learning and even your work as an artist.

Refreshments included at both venues. This is a free event and limited places are available.

Contact rosie.grieve@smithsrow.org to reserve a place.

For further information about each venue visit:

www.smithsrow.org

www.museums.norfolk.gov.uk

www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk

--

Rosie Grieve
Curator

FOR CONTEMPORARY ART IN THE EAST

SMITHS
ROW