Katrina Copping is a specialist in bid writing and fundraising for the voluntary, community and charity sector in East Anglia. This specialism, coupled with her own enthusiasm for and experience in music events, makes her an ideal trainer for community musicians and creative practitioners in general wishing to raise funds to support their projects.

A morning session of activities will provide you with the inside track on how to make sure your funding application is the best it can be. This will be followed by one-to-one sessions with Katrina, giving you the chance to discuss specific issues relating to your own applications.

We will also be announcing an exciting music project, developed by Suffolk Artlink, and due to start in summer 2012, subject to funding.

To book a place, please email candida@suffolkartlink.org.uk .or call 01986 873955. Places for the one-to-one surgeries are limited, so early booking is advisable.

UPBEAT is a rock and pop music project for young disabled people, funded through Youth Music and Activities Unlimited. It is managed by Suffolk Artlink, on behalf of Suffolk County Council. To find out more about Suffolk Artlink, please visit their website on www.suffolkartlink.org.uk
